

Seven Tips to solve your most difficult in-building mobile challenges

Most commercial building owners regularly hear complaints from tenants about in-building mobile service. Low-service areas and periodic service disruptions can cause a frustrating communications experience and disrupt business operations. Prospective tenants also frequently question the quality of in-building mobile coverage.

Modern and legacy buildings present to in-building mobile service. You might recognize some challenges our customers have brought to us:

- “My building is working against me.”
- “Every Wednesday our coverage gets worse.”
- “We’re facility and IT pros, not RF engineers.”

SOLiD understands, and we have the experience and knowledge to create the custom solutions you need. Read Seven Tips to Improve In-Building Mobile Coverage and get solutions to the most common in-building mobile challenges.
